

Stallergenes Greer
NATIONAL SCIENTIFIC SYMPOSIUM
“Perspectives in AIT: 2022 and beyond”

EVIDENCE-BASED APPROACHES TO HOUSE DUST MITE AIT:
INTERNATIONAL INSIGHTS AND TRENDS

PLENARY (30 min):

Prof. Oliver Pfaar (Germany)

Head of the Section Rhinology and Allergy
ORL-Department at University Hospital Marburg, Germany

BURDENS, RISKS & OPTIMAL MANAGEMENT OF SPRINGTIME ALLERGY:
LATEST AUSTRALIAN DATA

EXPERT PANEL (30 min)

Featuring ‘snapshots’ of the very latest local research presented by:

Prof. Jo Douglass (Melbourne)

James Stewart Chair of Medicine, University of Melbourne; Director of Research, Royal Melbourne Hospital

Prof. Sheryl van Nunen OAM (Sydney)

Clinical Professor, Macquarie University; Clinical Associate Professor,
Northern Clinical School, University of Sydney; Visiting Medical Officer,
Northern Beaches Hospital

Prof. Simon Haberle (Canberra)

Professor of Natural History, Director of the School of Culture, History and Language, Australian National University; Pollen lead for AirRater, ACT

A/Prof. Ed Newbigin (Melbourne)

Botanist, School of BioSciences, University of Melbourne; Co-ordinator,
Melbourne Pollen Count Team

COMBINED Q&A SESSION (30 min):

CHAIR:

A/Prof. Kymble Spriggs

Clinical Associate Professor, University of Melbourne

Thursday 17th March 2022

6.00 pm AEST / 5.30pm Adelaide / 3.00 pm Perth / 8.00 pm Auckland

Prof. Pfaar and the Australian Expert Panel will provide a platform to explore an overarching question:

Based on the latest science, what approaches and future directions would inform the prescription of AIT to allergy sufferers in Australia?

Your participation in this discussion will be highly valued.

Title: Stallergenes National Scientific Symposium: ‘Perspectives in AIT: 2022 and beyond’

Date and time: Thursday March 17th at 6.00 – 7.30 pm AEST
(5.30 – 7.00 pm Adelaide / 3.00 – 4.30 pm Perth / 8.00 – 9.30 pm Auckland)

Format: Plenary and Expert Panel via Zoom, with opportunities for audience participation via local in-person meetings (details to be provided)

Audience: Senior allergy experts from across Australia and NZ

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER

---